

A SMALL STORY OF CIRCULAR ECONOMY IN RECYCLE OF MARRIAGE VENUE WASTE

Aluminum Beer can waste collected in used cartoon box

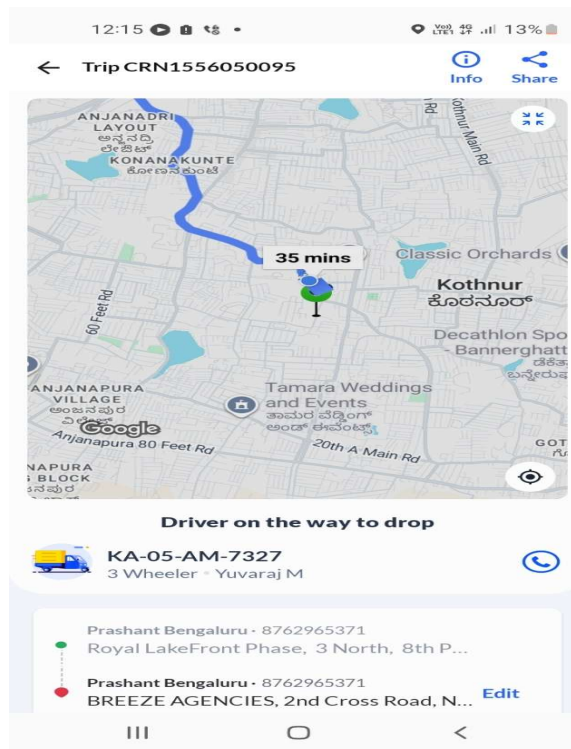

the waste transferred to Jute Gunny bags – ease of transport to the segregation place

The waste was collected by two ladies. The ladies worked on the weekend to earn extra money to meet their every day demands.

After work the ladies returned home by UBER. Uber is travel app giving livelihood to migrant labours. Village youth travel to city for jobs. Uber app charges commission on each ride from the UBER drivers.

The waste was left at the Marriage hall as the waste segregation centre was not working on Sunday. The venue did store the waste for 24 hours.

Monday the waste was transported from Marriage venue to waste segregation place. The transportation helped Porter driver to earn his livelihood. Porter is an app where the commercial vehicle can be booked. The porter app charges rs.40 as commission from the porter drive. The porter company protected their livelihood by the online app software

Waste segregation at City market – Bengaluru

Pet bottles waste – 5 kilos. Pet bottles waste was sold at rs.5 a kilo . Pet bottle waste recycled.

2 kilos and 700 grams of aluminum beer can waste. This was sold at rs.80 per kilo. Aluminum waste recycled

2 kilos of glass bottles waste. Colored glass bottle waste is sent to the factory for recycle. The recycling vendor waits for bulk waste to accumulate, later is sent to glass factory at nelamangala. Glass bottles are not recycled and left to rot on roads. Glass recycle is an expensive issue.

Colored glass bottles recycled

Gunny bag is made of jute. Gunny bag was recycled. The gunny bag waste was not sent to Landfill

8 gunny bags recycled – the gunny shop purchased the used gunny bags at rs.5/-.

The vendor puts the gunny bags in sun for drying . after dry the vendor resells. The vendor has employed three men for doing this job of gunny bags recyle. Four persons livelihood is protected.

This a pigmy collector

A pigmy collector (or pigmy agent) is a field agent who travels door-to-door collecting small, recurring daily or weekly deposits from street vendors, daily-wage earners, and small shopkeepers. This grassroots micro-savings service, often called a Pigmy Deposit Scheme, is typically run by cooperative banks, credit societies, and micro-finance institutions.

The pigmy collector deposits this money of the workmen in the bank. The pigmy collector maintains an account book of the everyday collection. The pigmy collector is creating a financial independence to the workmen.